APPENDIX 1: PRACTICE IN OUR SCHOOL8

Mulberry Stepney Green Maths, Computing and Science College Spiritual Moral, Social and Cultural Development Policy

Introduction

At Mulberry Stepney Green College, we believe that the development of students' Spiritual, Moral, Social, and Cultural (SMSC) aspects is central to their overall growth and education, and this is recognised by our governors, staff and parents of the school. This is taught through all subjects of the curriculum, including Religious Education and Personal, Health and Social Education (PSHE). The policy supports all areas of learning and aims to contribute to each student's motivation to learn.

"Spiritual, Moral, Social and Cultural Development have to do with relationships with other people and, for believers, with God. It has to do with the search for individual identity and with our responses to challenging experiences...and encounters with good and evil. It is to do with the search for the meaning and purpose in life and for the values by which we live" (NCC document)

The implementation of this policy is the responsibility of the Head teacher and all members of staff because it is accepted that the values and attitudes promoted by the staff influence the behaviour and attitudes within the school. The quality of relationships and the atmosphere within the school reflect an appreciation of their shared values.

Aims and Implementation of the Policy

The aim is that through the implementation of this policy all pupils will inculcate a positive attitude towards themselves and others, show respect for the world in which they live and deal with everyday life experiences in a confident and understanding way.

1. Spiritual Development

- 1.1 The Education Reform Act refers to a dimension of human existence which is termed 'spiritual' and which applies to all pupils. It goes on to state that the potential for spiritual development is open to everyone.
- 1.2 In developing the spirituality of young people at Mulberry Stepney Green, the aim is to help them become aware of:
 - The human search for meaning and purpose of life
 - The joy of being alive
 - The beauty of the natural world
 - The mystery and wonder of existence
 - The world of imagination and creativity
 - The value of non-material dimension of life
 - The need to understand themselves and their feelings
 - The need to value themselves and their feelings
 - The need to recognize the feelings and achievements of others
- 1.3 In this way, spiritual development encourages:
 - Self-awareness
 - Reflection
 - Reasoning
 - A sense of identity
 - Good relationships co-operation and empathy
 - The formation of ideas

1.4 The school aims to promote spiritual development by:

- Engendering high-self-esteem by encouraging the girls take risks or face challenges in their reading within a secure and positive environment
- Demonstrating its appreciation for the work of the pupils' imagination and provide opportunities for them to employ their own creativity and imagination.
- Offering opportunities for aesthetic experience in art, music, dance, literature etc.
- Making time for stillness and reflection
- Posing questions that encourage pupils to consider issues of meaning and purpose
- Developing pupils' good listening skills; the school will be able to show that it is taking account of children's views through its responses to issues raised by them, via a variety of channels, including the School Council.
- Fostering emotional well-being by encouraging pupils to express their feelings and to have the ability to control their emotional behaviour.
- Improving co-operation and understanding in relationships
- Developing the capacity for evaluative reasoning and critical thought by encouraging pupils to look beyond the surface.

As a school we value the contribution that can be made to the spiritual development of the child by all areas of the curriculum.

2. Moral Development

2.1 Moral development relates to pupils' developing an understanding of what is 'wrong', 'right' and 'fair'.

2.2 The moral development of the Mulberry pupil is concerned with:

- Developing her awareness and understanding of the moral code of the school and the community(ies) in which she lives
- Helping pupils to realize that to enjoy rights, they must also accept responsibilities
- Developing pupils understanding of why rules are necessary
- Developing pupils' self-discipline so that rules are observed as a point of principle and not out of the fear of sanctions.
- Giving pupils the knowledge and ability to question and reason so that they can decide on the most appropriate action after considering the consequences of an action
- Valuing physical well-being, privacy, feelings, beliefs and rights of others.

2.3 Mulberry School seeks to promote the moral development of its pupils by:

- Showing respect to all
- Having a consensus of core values that are stated explicitly and clearly and owned by everyone at Mulberry
- Building up the self-esteem of all pupils
- Encouraging all at Mulberry to behave in acceptable ways towards each other
- Training pupils to understand the consequences of their actions

It is crucial there is a consistency in the approach to this among all staff.

2.4 At Mulberry Stepney Green, the moral development of pupils is underpinned by a belief in:

- Respecting the rights and property of others
- Being considerate to each other

- Caring for each other, and especially for those who are less fortunate
- Accepting responsibility for one's own actions
- Self-discipline.
- The school is firmly committed to a policy which is opposed to bullying, irresponsibility, dishonesty, selfishness. It seeks to recognise and affirm good conduct, commitment to service to others through its reward system and through celebration of achievements

3. Social development

3.1 Social development encourages students to relate positively to others, take responsibility, participate fully in the community and develop an understanding of citizenship" (Ofsted Framework)

3.2 Pupils will acquire an understanding of being members of families and different communities (school, local, national and global) and an ability to relate to and work with others for the 'common good'.

The School sets out to foster the commitment and ability to live and work with others, to share resources and show concern and responsibility for others in the school and wider community

3.3 Pupils will display a sense of belonging and an increasing willingness to participate.

The school seeks to offer a wide range of educational, social, sporting and extra-curricular activities to all members of its community

3.4 Pupils will develop knowledge, skills, understanding, and qualities and attitudes they will need to make an active contribution to the democratic process in each of their communities.

Classroom management will seek to promote group co-operation and mutual responsibility. Pupils will be pointed to the value and importance of working and playing together.

3.5 The school aims to develop social skills and insights through a full range of activities in school involving all members of the community, and by creating situations where they have opportunities to relate to visitors and do so with increasing politeness, tact and confidence

The school's programme of fund-raising and the charitable causes chosen to contribute to developing the habit of care and support for those in need. Pupils are given the opportunity to choose charities the school community should support and to take an active part in their planning and carrying out fund-raising activities.

4. Cultural Development

4.1 Cultural development is concerned with teaching pupils to appreciate their own cultural traditions and the diversity and richness of other cultures. Culture is the embodiment of shared beliefs, knowledge, customs and values of that group. Pupils need to appreciate the distinctive features of their own culture and those of others. We all need to remember that cultures are dynamic and are constantly changing.

4.2 The School aims to promote cultural development by:

- Introducing pupils to a range of cultural activities and experiences
- Building up an appreciation of their own cultural heritage and traditions
- Introducing them to examples of the variety of human cultures, beliefs and ways of life

4.3 Opportunities to nurture the cultural development of pupils will include:

- Experiencing and appreciating the rich heritage and range of cultures through all areas of the school's curriculum
- Developing links and sharing activities with other schools (both UK and international)
- The many visits to museums, events and places of cultural and historic interest

5. Context for promoting the Spiritual, moral, social and cultural development policy at Mulberry

5.1 In order to ensure that the policy works for the benefit of the school, it is important to have an awareness of other existing policies.

5.2 Assemblies, Celebrating Diversity Programme and Tutorial programmes
These provide opportunities to consider aspects of SMSC and bring to the fore matters of topical concern as well as recurrent issues

5.3 Faculty/departmental handbooks
Faculty/departmental heads are responsible for the inclusion and updating of relevant SMSC criteria in their handbooks, including current practice and relevance to schemes of work

5.4 External links
These provide a most useful channel for promoting SMSCD policy among pupils. Such relationships provide opportunities to help our pupils to develop an awareness and understanding of different cultures and practices

5.5 Extra-curricular activities
Those with responsibility for running clubs, societies, trips and other events should develop their awareness of the opportunities their activities have for SMSCD policies and maximise the benefits they bring to pupils' learning

6. Staff development
All members of staff should be aware of the importance of SMSC development and the enhancement it brings to the life of the School

7. Other School Policies

The following policies need to be considered in connection with this SMSC policy:

- Collective Worship (Assemblies)
- Curriculum
- Racial Equality
- Inclusion
- Anti-Bullying

8. Monitoring of this policy
The SLT will monitor the effectiveness of this policy through liaising with Year Learning Co-ordinators and Faculty/Department Heads.

9. Review
The policy will be reviewed by the Head teacher and staff. Following a review, any suggested amendments will be presented to the Governing Body of the School.

10. “Personal development cannot be hived off into one segment of school life, confined to such activities as assemblies...or classes in Religious and Personal or Social Education....The very teaching process contains numerous opportunities for encouraging such development” (Ofsted Discussion Paper)
